

The requested operation requires elevation

Error message

While trying to install or run an executable the following error message appears

The requested operation requires elevation

Operating Systems

Windows Server 2008

Solution

This is caused by incorrect permissions settings. When trying to either install or run an executable.

Right click on the file, right click on the properties and look at the securities tab. Make sure there is full control granted.

After access has been granted, retry installing or executing a service.

FINISHED